(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, September 2a.—Baron Komura, Japanese pence plenipotentiary, who will start for Japan to-morrow, gave the Associated Press to-night the first authentic interview since he has been in this country on the peace mission, and which he said would be the last one. Baron Komura feels deeply grateful for many courtesles and kindnesses extended during his visit, and commended highly President Roosevelt's statesmanship in bringing the representatives of the Japanese and Rueslans together. The Baron said in part:

"As the result of the war Japan will undoubtedly secure a well-recognized position in the Far East. I have, however, no hesitation in affirming that there will be no break in the continuity of the Japanese foreign policy. Steadily and firmly adhering to the policy of peace, full expansion in commerce and industry. Japan will devote all her energies with renewed vigor to the development of her national resources.

"She will continue, as in the past, to scrupulously respect the acquired rights and legitimate interests of the powers in the Far East; nor will she attempt to interfere in the least with the logical and legitimate developments of those interfere in the least with the logical and legitimate developments of those interfere in the least with the logical and legitimate developments of those interfere in the part of the manufactures of the powers in the part of the security of those interfere in the least with the logical and legitimate developments of those interfere in the least with the logical and interestics.

SECRETARY HYDE NOW IN RICHMOND

Has Brought About One Hundred Additional Entries to Show.

MR. J. B. M. GROSVENOR DEAD

Dies Suddenly in New York-Unlikely That Mrs. Grosvenor Will Keep Entries.

Mr. James T. Hyde, secretary of the Richmond Horse Show association, arrived in Richmond yesterday morning from New York, bringing with him abou one hundred additional entries, among them being the stables of Alfred B. McClay, of New York; Julian H. Morris, of Keswick, Va.; C. W. Watson, of Baltimore; Pagot & Opic, of Upperville, and Mr. and Mrs. Labouisse, of Warrenton.

Mr. Hyde is in great exuberance ove the prospects of the show this year, and s highly gratified at the showing of the entries, both in number and quality.

The sale of lickets has greatly creased since the publication of the en-tries, and it is likely that the building win be mixed to its utmost capacity.

It will be learned with regret in Richmond that Mr. James B. M. Grosvenor husband of Mrs. Grosvenor, who has shown in the Horse Show in Richmond two seasons, and had entries for this year, died suddenly in New York Monday. Mr. Grosvenor was taken suddenly ill on an elevated train and died at the station hefore a doctor could arrive. The death of her husband will probably prevent Mrs. Grosvenor from cntering the Richmond show this year. She had fifty-four entries, and it will be go erally regretted both by the manage-rent and the people that circumstances will not permit of their exhibit.

The New York Herald of yesterday gives this sketch of Mr. Grosvenor: "James B. M. Grosvenor was sixty-five years of age. He was born in Providence, R. I., and after attending the public schools was graduated from Brown University, after which he came to New York and entered mercantile business. At the time of his death he was a At the time of his ceath he was a director of the Briggs-Seabury Gun and Ammunition Company, the United States Casualty Company, president and director of the American Fireproofine Company, president and director of the pany, president and director of the Grosvenor-Dale Company and trustee of pany, president and alreedo; of the Groevenor-Dale Company and trustee of the Groevenor-Dale Company and trustee of the Greenwich Savings Bank. He was a number of the Union, Racquet, Tennis, Ardsley, Strollers, New York Yacht, Downtown, Riding, Jekyl Island, Brown University and Coney Island, Brown University and Coney Island, Brown University and was also a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the American Geographical Society, New England Society, and the Metropolitan Museum of Art. He had a cottage at Newport, "Having amassed a large fortune as a commission merchant, Mr. Grosvenor retired about fourteen years ago, and a year or so afterwards married a southern woman. Mrs. Grosvenor is a great lover of horses, and at several horse shows her exhibits carried off the blue ribbon.

A Brown and Office Secretary W. Reginald Walker.

Walker.

The meeting was opened with reading of a Scripture lesson, and prayer was offered by Dr. Kent. State Secretary Coulter submitted his roport, showing the condition of the association work.

The report shows that the canvass for association buildings is proceeding satisfactorily, and that a large amount has already been subscribed; railroad associations are growing rapidly in membership and are receiving large contributions, $65,000 having been appropriated by the Norfolk and Western. A special committee has appointed Mr, T. S. Vance, secretary for county work department; $9,928 has been raised and one hundred and seventeen conversions have been made in the services held by Mr. L. A. Coulter, State secretary. A boys' meeting will be held in Newport News November 24th, etc. The report is viewed with great satisfaction, as it shows the association work to have increased largely in all fields.

Among the Students.

College Secretary Brown made a very interesting raport of the association work among the students in the colleges and preparatory schools of the State. The gist of the report schows that the time of the college secretary has been eccupled in holding evangelistic meetings, in securing an Asheville delegation from every college, in leading the Virginia delegation at Asheville, and during the summor in holding young men's Sandays, and in' securing State work support. During the present month, thirteen visite, have been made to ten institutions; decision meetings. Bible study railles, and setting-up conferences have been held for the collegiate year now beginning.

The report of the sub-committee on student work showed that one meeting of the committee had been held and aplan adopted for increasing the financial constituency, and that a conference of college professors has been announced, to be held at the University of Virginia next month, twenty institutions having been invited to send delegates.

The appearance of Mr. Charles B. Hanford, in the Merchant of Venice, at the Academy to-morrow night is an event of more than ordinary interest, as he represents the school of acting which is considered in the forefront. An actor who has remained "good" for so long over the same circuit and before the same people, as has Mr. Hanford, secures a standing which cannot be estimated lightly. Mr. Hanford's name is a guarantee. He has been a welcome visitor season after season for many years, and has never failed to give a performance which graiffed the critical sense and delighted the auditor who seeks the theatre for an evening's diversion. Trained as he was in his early career by the great masters of his art, he has steadfastly clung to the highest ideals of his profession and has claimed the admiring confidence of the public as an actor, as a stage manager and as a producer.

The stars of this play are Mason and Mason, who are supported by sixty peopie, including a chorus of beautiful girls.

The favorable reports of this production indicate a liberal patronage here, and the success of this play is said to be greatly due to the fact of its being extremely amusing and at the same time absolutely free from vulgarity. The east besides Mason and Mason, contains many well known performers, whose presence alone would seem to insure the success of any play. The sale of seats

THEY WILL CONTEST ROYAL ARCANUM RATES

BROOKLYN, September 26.—In spite of the fact that the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum has sent "Brother Abb Boandis, the celebrated fraternal actuary of Tennessee," as a missionary to Brooklyn to tell the revoiting members of the order all about the new rates, the Brooklyn councils are solns ahead with of the order all about the new rates, the Brooklyn councils are going ahead with the preparations for a contest in the courts. The Supreme Council, or some person acting for it, has arranged for a meeting of Arcanumites on Thursday night in the Baptist Temple, Third Avenue and Schermerhorn Street, Brooklyn. Tre postal cards received yesterday by the members of the order in Brooklyn were mailed in Braton on last Saturday, but have the name of Grand Racent Samuel H. Hoag, of this State, signed to the call.

BATTLE ON FERRYBOAT; WOMEN ARE TERRIFIED

NEW YORK, September 28.—One man mortally shot, a desperate attack on the police who attempted to shield his assailant, and a running fight with stillettos among one hundred members of an Italian society on the main deck of the Staton Island forryboat Southfield, off Robins's Reef last night, threw scores of men, women and children, also pussengers, into a panic. Women became sengers, into a panic. Women became hysterical or fainled, and many rushed in fright to the side rails, prepared to jump from the boat.

Thomas Pascalo, twenty-eight years old, married, of No. 18 Minetta Lane, was shot in the groin, and is not expected to survive. The police experienced great difficulty in breaking up the battle. Pascalo's allexed askallant, Glacomino Ammenelia, of No. 89 Bayard Street, was arrested.
